Tri Valley Medical Foundation Hires New Director

(June 5, 2018 – Cambridge, NE) Tri Valley Medical Foundation is pleased to announce the hiring of Jamie Mickelsen as Foundation Director. Mickelsen relocated to Cambridge in April and assumed her role May 10, 2018.

A native of Superior, Nebraska, Mickelsen attended Nebraska Wesleyan where she received her Bachelor's Degree in Business Administration. From there, she was employed for five and a half years at a Financial Planning firm which was part of Securities America.

"What initially impressed me and the Board as a whole was her understanding of a small town support system," said Jackie Shoemaker, Foundation Board President. "We can't have a successful Foundation without support from all of the communities we serve and Jamie understands that. Please join me in giving her a warm welcome to Cambridge."

Mickelsen will begin her career as Foundation Director by attending various fundraising trainings; assisting with the Pro Am Golf Tournament, now in its 25th year; and getting to know the people in Cambridge and surrounding communities.

"One of the best things about this area are the younger families and couples who want to be involved," said Mickelsen. "I want families to understand how valuable Tri Valley Health System is to the vitality of our community. Not only that, but I will strive to maintain those relationships that my predecessor already has and forge new ones in order to keep the Foundation's fundraising efforts alive and growing."

Mickelsen's parents, Arlen and Valerie, own a small farm equipment business in Superior; Jamie has one younger sister, Jett. In her free time, she enjoys the lake and traveling.

Established in 1990, the Tri Valley Medical Foundation is a charitable tax-exempt corporation formed for the sole purpose of supporting and enhancing the healthcare mission of Tri Valley Health System.

Thanks to their generous gifts, donors to the Medical Foundation have helped Tri Valley Health System achieve excellence in equipment, facilities and programs. Tri Valley Health System is grateful for the support and advances in medical technology it has allowed.
